PART 111 126. Where a person charged with contempt is adjudged guilty and is sentenced to suffer imprisonment, a Warrant of Commitment and detention shall be made under the signature of Prothonotary or Registrar or Officer on Special Duty as the case may be". NOTES Allegations against Judges of High Court, Bombay : Contempt of the Court Supreme Court observed that throwing chappals at Judges even at Supreme Court : 14 of the Contempt of the Courts Act, 1971 : The petitioners were asked to withdraw made, they refused to do so and submitted that they stood by the said averments and strongly urged the Court to issue process to arrest the 12 Judges of the High rt of Bombay. On 10.9.2008, before the Bench presided over by Dr. Justice Arijit Pasayat, while the writ petitioners appeared in person, the respondents were duly represented by Counsel and after hearing the petitioners, the Court was of the view that Cause Reply was equally contumacious and some action was required to be taken eägainst the petitioners for contempt of this Court. The Writ Petitions and the suo motu öntempt proceedings were taken up for consideration on 20.3.2009. When the hearing - 29 450 Criminal Manual commenced, the writ petitioners disrupted the proceedings by using very off intemperate and abusive language at a high pitch. One of the petitioners had gone extent of saying that the Judges should be jailed for having initiated proceedings ageiliseo, them and that the Judges should be punished for not taking care of their rights. One of the writ petitioners, namely, Dr. Sarita Parikh, went to the extent of thr a footwear at the Judges. This happened in the presence of the learned Solicitor Geng@4..... of India (now Attorney General for India), two learned Additional Solicitor Generals and a large number of learned Counsel and Advocates, including the President of the Supr Court Advocates-on-Record Association. Since the petitioners stood by what they had% and done in Court, His Lordship Dr. Justice Pasayat felt that there was no need t any notice and holding them to be guilty of criminal contempt of this Court, inflicted,a-• punishment of three months' simple imprisonment on them. Having regard to the diffeyegcgg of opinion as to the procedure to be adopted before the petitioners could be found of contempt of Court and sentenced, the matter was directed to be placed before The Chief Justice of India and a direction was given that the Contemnors would re in custody till the matter could be heard by an appropriate Bench. On the same day the Hon'ble Chief Justice constituted a Bench comprising the H ! Mr. Justice B. N. Agrawal (as His Lordship then was), the Hon'ble Mr. Justice G. S. Singh and the Hon'ble Mr. Justice H. L. Dattu and directed the matter to be placed before the Said.' Bench on 23.3.2009 at 2.00 p.m. In the meantime, the alleged Contemnors were enlarged on Bail and the Application for Intervention filed by the Supreme Court Bar Association allowed. On 15.4.2009, the matters were released by the aforesaid Bench and wereä subsequently placed before this Bench. On 16.7.2009, when the two differing Orders 20.3.2009, in the Contempt Proceedings were taken up for consideration, the alleggiA- Contemnors refused to make any submissions and insisted that the hearing of the Wri Petitions, which had already been concluded, be reopened. It was held that as far as 'thq suo motu proceedings for contempt are concerned, the Supreme Court was of the view that Dr. Justice Arijit Pasayat was well within his jurisdiction in passing a Summary having regard to the provisions of Articles 129 and 142 of the Constitution of India. See 14 of the Contempt of Courts Act, 1971 does not preclude the Court from taking recours to summary proceedings when a deliberate and willful contumacious incident takes p in front of their eyes and the public at large, including Senior Law Officers, such Attorney General for India who was then the Solicitor General of India. Section 14 of the Contempt of Courts Act no doubt contemplates issuance of notice d an opportunity to the Contemnors to answer the charges in the notice to satisfy the principles of natural justice. However, where an incident of the instant nature takes plaqä within the presence and sight of the learned Judges, the same amounts to contempt ih face of the Court and is required to be dealt with at the time of the incident itself. necessary for the dignity and majesty of the Courts to be maintained. When an object as a footwear, is thrown at the Presiding Officer in a Court proceeding, the object iS to merely scandalize or humiliate the Judge, but to scandalize the institution itself an thereby lower its dignity in the eyes of the public. In the instant case, after being given an opportunity to explain their conduct, not only have the Contemnors shown no remorse' their unseemly behaviour, but they have gone even further by filing a fresh Writ Petiäoii in which apart from repeating the scandalous remarks made earlier, certain new dimenâ sions in the use of unseemly and intemperate language have been resorted to fur denigrate and scandalize and over-awe the Court. The writ proceedings have been • in gross abuse of the process of Court, with the deliberate and willful intention of loweflp•c the image and dignity not only of the Court and the judiciary, but to vilify the highest] constitutional functionaries. The Secretary General is directed to take the Contemnors into custody forthwith:apd. to arrange to have them sent to the appropriate jail to serve out the sentence. The warrants be issued against Leila David and Pavithra Murali, who are not present in Criminal Manual 451 Oday, despite our directions. The Commissioner of Police, Mumbai, is directed to take steps O.execute the arrest warrants and to take them into custody and to arrange for their detention in prison in terms of the Order passed on 20.3.2009.- Leila HC (AS) Rules, 1960 :- The Contemnor facing Show Cause Notice for having committed criminal contempt. The "fundamental right to profession is not an absolute right. The right to appear in Advocate's robes before the Court is a statutory right available only to a person who appears in his as Advocate for any other party or litigant and not in his own cause. When Advocate himself is facing contempt action for his own acts of commission and omission he would appear before the Court in his individual capacity and not as an Advocate. The Practicing is not expected to appear as Advocate in his own cause. The Contemnor cannot be allowed to appear in Advocates' robes. The Respondent insisted that his matter should be taken up forthwith even though the matter did not pertain to the work which was assigned to the Learned Judge under the roster of work. The Respondent used language in Court, which was most improper and he was obstructive and rowdy. His entire behaviour manifestly against the decorum of the Court. Kind of utterances not only tend to lower Court. Title Acts compromised OI CIO in any of the excepted category. The case of conscious attempt of committing contempt on the face of the Court. A sufficient opportunity was given to the Respondent/ Contemnor to tender unconditional apology. The Respondent/Contemnor has not only shown disinclination to tender apology, much less, unconditional apology. but has justified his conduct and behaviour. The Respondent/ Contemnor held guilty of criminal contempt and is sentenced him for four months. The Respondent/Contemnor shall not be entitled to appear before High Court or any other subordinate Court until he purges of the contempt Committed by him.- High Court on its own Motion v. N. B.
