085 so of this Act or Rules prevail over inconsistent provisions in other laws. Save as provided in section 74, in regard to any matter, the provisions of any law made by the State Legislature or any law which the State Legislature is competent to make amend in so far as such law is inconsistent with the provisions, and such law to the extent of such inconsistency shall cease to apply or shall apply to any such matter.

74. Buildings and lines along national highways and levy of betterment charges. For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that nothing in this Act shall apply to highways declared by or under any law made by Parliament to be national highways. Provided that if any land is declared to be a national highway by or by notification, it shall be lawful for Government to buy and control the different portions of the said highway under section 7 or to levy betterment charges under section 42 on lands the value of which has increased by reason of the construction or proposed construction of such highway; and the provisions of this Act in so far as they apply to free boundary and the building line or between free building line and the right of line and other provisions relating to such building and control as the be, the provisions of this Act relating to the levy of betterment charges apply.

75. Removal of difficulties. If any practical difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act, the State Government as required by notification published in the Official Gazette, may do anything not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act for purpose of giving effect to the provisions.

(2) Should any doubt arise as to the construction and interpretation of any provision of this Act, the same may be referred to the Road Construction Department of the State Government.
